v. :

BLUE EYE INC. :

Defendant. :

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT
AND DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

-----X

INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiff, KEVIN YAN LUIS (“Plaintiff” or “Yan Luis”), brings this action on behalf of himself and all other persons similarly situated against BLUE EYE, INC. (hereinafter “BLUE EYE” or “Defendant”), and states as follows:

2. Plaintiff is a visually-impaired and legally blind person who requires screen-reading software to read website content using his computer. Plaintiff uses the terms “blind” or “visually-impaired” to refer to all people with visual impairments who meet the legal definition of blindness in that they have a visual acuity with correction of less than or equal to 20 x 200. Some blind people who meet this definition have limited vision; others have no vision.

3. Based on a 2010 U.S. Census Bureau report, approximately 8.1 million people in the United States are visually impaired, including 2.0 million who are blind, and according to the American Foundation for the Blind’s 2015 report, approximately 400,000 visually impaired persons live in the State of New York.

4. Plaintiff brings this civil rights action against BLUE EYE for their failure to design, construct, maintain, and operate their website to be fully accessible to and independently usable by Plaintiff and other blind or visually-impaired persons. Defendant is denying blind and visually impaired persons throughout the United States with equal access to the goods and services BLUE EYE provides to their non-disabled customers through <https://www.100CANDLES.com> (hereinafter “100CANDLES.com” or “the website”). Defendants’ denial of full and equal access to its website, and therefore denial of its products and services offered, and in conjunction with its physical locations, is a violation of Plaintiff’s rights under the Americans with Disabilities Act (the “ADA”).

5. Wwww.100CANDLES.com provides to the public a wide array of the goods, services, price specials, employment opportunities and other programs offered by BLUE EYE. Yet, 100CANDLES.com contains thousands of access barriers that make it difficult if not impossible for blind and visually-impaired customers to use the website. In fact, the access barriers make it impossible for blind and visually-impaired users to even complete a transaction on the website. Thus, BLUE EYE excludes the blind and visually-impaired from the full and equal participation in the growing Internet economy that is increasingly a fundamental part of the common marketplace and daily living. In the wave of technological advances in recent years, assistive computer technology is becoming an increasingly prominent part of everyday life, allowing blind and visually-impaired persons to fully and independently access a variety of services.

6. The blind have an even greater need than the sighted to shop and conduct transactions Online due to the challenges faced in mobility. The lack of an accessible website means that blind people are excluded from experiencing transacting with defendant’s website and from purchasing goods or services from Defendant’s website.

7. Despite readily available accessible technology, such as the technology in use at other heavily trafficked retail websites, which makes use of alternative text, accessible forms, descriptive links, resizable text and limits the usage of tables and JavaScript, Defendant has chosen to rely on an exclusively visual interface. BLUE EYE's sighted customers can independently browse, select, and buy online without the assistance of others. However, blind persons must rely on sighted companions to assist them in accessing and purchasing on www.100CANDLES.com.

8. By failing to make the website accessible to blind persons, Defendant is violating basic equal access requirements under both state and federal law.

9. Congress provided a clear and national mandate for the elimination of discrimination against individuals with disabilities when it enacted the ADA. Such discrimination includes barriers to full integration, independent living, and equal opportunity for persons with disabilities, including those barriers created by websites and other public accommodations that are inaccessible to blind and visually impaired persons. Similarly, New York state law requires places of public accommodation to ensure access to goods, services, and facilities by making reasonable accommodations for persons with disabilities.

10. Plaintiff browsed and intended to make an online purchase of designer candles at www.100CANDLES.com. However, unless Defendant remedies the numerous access barriers on its website, Plaintiff and Class members will continue to be unable to independently navigate, browse, use, and complete a transaction on www.100CANDLES.com.

11. Because Defendant's website, www.100CANDLES.com, is not equally accessible to blind and visually-impaired consumers, it violates the ADA. Plaintiff seeks a permanent injunction to cause a change in BLUE EYE's policies, practices, and procedures to that Defendant's website will become and remain accessible to blind and visually-impaired consumers. This complaint also seeks compensatory damages to compensate Class members for having been subjected to unlawful discrimination.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12. This Court has subject-matter jurisdiction over this action under 28 U.S.C. §1331 and 42 U.S.C. §12181, as Plaintiff's claims arise under Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. §12181, et seq., and 28 U.S.C. §1332. This Court also has supplemental jurisdiction over pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1367, over Plaintiff's pendent claims under the New York State Human Rights Law, N.Y. Exec. Law, Article 15 (Executive Law §290 et seq.) and the New York City Human Rights Law, N.Y.C. Administrative Code §8-101 et seq. ("City Law").

13. Venue is proper in this District of New York pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§1391(b)(c) and 144(a) because Defendant conducts and continues to conduct a substantial and significant amount of business in this District, and a substantial portion of the conduct complained of herein occurred in this District because Plaintiff attempted to utilize, on a number of occasions, the subject Website in Bronx County.

14. Defendant is registered to do business in New York State and has been conducting business in New York State, including in this District. Defendant purposefully targets and otherwise solicits business from New York State residents through its website and sells its products through many retailers in this District. Because of this targeting, it is not unusual for BLUE EYE to conduct business with New York State residents. Defendant also has been and is committing the acts alleged herein in this District and has been and is violating the rights of consumers in this District and has been and is causing injury to consumers in this District. A substantial part of the act and omissions giving rise to Plaintiff's claims have occurred in this District. Most courts support the placement of venue in the district in which Plaintiff tried and failed to access the Website. In Access Now, Inc. v. Otter Products, LLC 280 F.Supp.3d 287 (D. Mass. 2017), Judge Patti B. Saris ruled that “although the website may have been created and operated outside of the district, the attempts to access the website in Massachusetts are part of the sequence of events underlying the claim. Therefore, venue is proper in [the District of Massachusetts].” Otter Prods., 280 F.Supp.3d at 294. This satisfies Due Process because the harm – the barred access to the website – occurred here.” Otter Prods., 280 F.Supp.3d at 293. Additionally, in Access Now, Inc. v. Sportswear, Inc., No. 17-cv-11211-NMG, 2018 Dist. LEXIS 47318 (D. Mass. Mar. 22, 2018), Judge Nathaniel M. Gorton stated that the defendant “availed itself of the forum state’s economic activities by targeting the residents of the Commonwealth . . . Such targeting evinces a voluntary attempt to appeal to the customer base in the forum.” Sportswear, No. 1:17-cv-11211-NMG, 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 47318 at *11. Thus, establishing a customer base in a particular district is sufficient cause for venue placement.

PARTIES

16. Plaintiff, is and has been at all relevant times a resident of Kings County, State of New York.

17. Plaintiff is legally blind and a member of a protected class under the ADA, 42 U.S.C. §12102(1)-(2), the regulations implementing the ADA set forth at 28 CFR §§36.101 et seq., the New York State Human Rights Law and the New York City Human Rights Law. Plaintiff, KEVIN YAN LUIS, cannot use a computer without the assistance of screen reader software. Plaintiff, KEVIN YAN LUIS, has been denied the full enjoyment of the facilities, goods and services of www.100CANDLES.com as a result of accessibility barriers on www.100CANDLES.com.

18. Defendant, BLUE EYE, is California Corporation doing business in this State with its principal place of business located at 7240 E Slauson Ave. Commerce, CA 90040, United States.

19. BLUE EYE provides to the public a website known as www.100CANDLES.com which provides consumers with access to an array of candles including, the ability to view the candles both wax and LED candles for special occasions, candle accessories such as candle holders as well as they offer bulk ordering which is great for party planning decoration, on their website, which allows customers to make direct purchases. Consumers across the United States and the world use Defendant's website to purchase candles and other products. Defendant's website is a place of public accommodation within the definition of Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C.

§12181(7). See Victor Andrews v. Blick Art Materials, LLC, No. 17-cv-767, 2017 WL 3278898 (E.D.N.Y. August 1, 2017). The inaccessibility of www.100CANDLES.com has deterred Plaintiff from making an online purchase of candles.

NATURE OF THE CASE

20. The Internet has become a significant source of information, a portal, and a tool for conducting business, doing everyday activities such as shopping, learning, banking, researching, as well as many other activities for sighted, blind and visually-impaired persons alike.

21. The blind access websites by using keyboards in conjunction with screen-reading software which vocalizes visual information on a computer screen. Except for a blind person whose residual vision is still sufficient to use magnification, screen access software provides the only method by which a blind person can independently access the Internet. Unless websites are designed to allow for use in this manner, blind persons are unable to fully access Internet websites and the information, products and services contained therein.

22. For screen-reading software to function, the information on a website must be capable of being rendered into text. If the website content is not capable of being rendered into text, the blind user is unable to access the same content available to sighted users.

23. Blind users of Windows operating system-enabled computers and devices have several screen-reading software programs available to them. Job Access With Speech, otherwise known as “JAWS” is currently the most popular, separately purchase and downloaded screen-reading software program available for blind computer users.

24. The international website standards organization, the World Wide Web Consortium, known throughout the world as W3C, has published version 2.1 of the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (“WCAG 2.1”). WCAG 2.1 are well-established guidelines for making websites accessible to blind and visually-impaired persons. These guidelines are universally followed by most large business entities and government agencies to ensure their websites are accessible. Many Courts have also established WCAG 2.1 as the standard guideline for accessibility. The federal government has also promulgated website accessibility standards under §508 of the Rehabilitation Act. These guidelines are readily available via the Internet, so that a business designing a website can easily access them. These guidelines recommend several basic components for making websites accessible, including but not limited to: adding invisible alt-text to graphics, ensuring that all functions can be performed using a keyboard and not just a mouse, ensuring that image maps are accessible, and adding headings so that blind persons can easily navigate the site. Without these very basic components, a website will be inaccessible to a blind person using a screen reader. Websites need to be accessible to the “least sophisticated” user of screen-reading software and need to be able to work with all browsers. Websites need to be continually updated and maintained to ensure that they remain fully accessible.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

25. Defendant controls and operates www.100CANDLES.com. in New York State and throughout the United States and the world.

26. Www.100CANDLES.com is a commercial website that offers products and services for online sale. The online store allows the user to view the various types of ability to view the various candles and candle accessories on the website, and make purchases and perform a variety of other functions.

27. Among the features offered by www.100CANDLES.com are the following:

- a) Consumers may use the website to connect with BLUE EYE on various social media platforms, including Instagram, Facebook, Twitter and Pinterest;
- b) an online store, allowing customers to purchase various articles of designer candles including but not limited to candles both wax and LED as well as candle accessories products for delivery to their doorsteps, and;
- c) Learning about shipping and return policies, reading reviews, and learning about the company, amongst other features.

28. This case arises out of BLUE EYE's policy and practice of denying the blind access to the goods and services offered by www.100CANDLES.com. Due to BLUE EYE's failure and refusal to remove access barriers to www.100CANDLES.com, blind individuals have been and are being denied equal access to BLUE EYE, as well as to the numerous goods, services and benefits offered to the public through www.100CANDLES.com.

29. BLUE EYE denies the blind access to goods, services and information made available through www.100CANDLES.com by preventing them from freely navigating www.100CANDLES.com.

30. www.100CANDLES.com contains access barriers that prevent free and full use by Plaintiff and blind persons using keyboards and screen-reading software. These barriers are pervasive and include, but are not limited to: lack of alt-text on graphics, inaccessible drop-down menus, the lack of navigation links, the lack of adequate prompting and labeling, the denial of keyboard access, empty links that contain no text, redundant links where adjacent links go to the same URL address, and the requirement that transactions be performed solely with a mouse.

31. Alternative text (“Alt-text”) is invisible code embedded beneath a graphical image on a website. Web accessibility requires that alt-text be coded with each picture so that a screen-reader can speak the alternative text while sighted users see the picture. Alt-text does not change the visual presentation except that it appears as a text pop-up when the mouse moves over the picture. There are many important pictures on www.100CANDLES.com that lack a text equivalent. The lack of alt-text on these graphics prevents screen readers from accurately vocalizing a description of the graphics (screen-readers detect and vocalize alt-text to provide a description of the image to a blind computer user). As a result, Plaintiff and blind www.100CANDLES.com customers are unable to determine what is on the website, browse the website or investigate and/or make purchases.

32. www.100CANDLES.com also lacks prompting information and accommodations necessary to allow blind shoppers who use screen-readers to locate and accurately fill-out online forms. On a shopping site such as www.100CANDLES.com, these forms include search fields to locate and select items, fields to select color, item size, and quantity, fields to select frequency of delivery, and fields used to fill-out personal information, including address and credit card information. Due to lack of adequate labeling, Plaintiff and blind customers cannot make purchases or inquiries as to Defendant's merchandise, nor can they enter their personal identification and financial information with confidence and security.

33. When visiting the Website, Plaintiff, using JAWS and other screen readers, encountered the following specific accessibility issues:

- The Plaintiff found that different images on the website have the same alternative text. Unique alternative text should be provided for different angles of the same product. Using the same alternative text on adjacent images does not convey the context of images and results in screen readers stuttering as the same text is read out twice.
- The Plaintiff struggled with landmarks that are not properly inserted into the web page, they fail to provide access to the content info ('footer') and navigation sections of the web page. Landmarks help the Plaintiffs assistive technology orient them on the web page.
- The Plaintiff had trouble with the websites use of lists as they did not have specific programmatically determined markup of ordered or unordered list.
- The Plaintiff found that the websites "skip to content" links are not implemented so he could not skip directly to the main page which causes repeated blocks of content which disrupted him from browsing for candles.
- The Plaintiff had trouble tabbing through the active elements (links, forms etc.) because the site does not follow the same page layout of left to right and top to bottom.
- The Plaintiff found that when opening a dialog, the focus order did not move from trigger button to dialog items. His assistive technology was confused when he navigated through content, and encountered that the information was not in an order that is consistent with the meaning of the content and he could not use his keyboard to further navigate.

- The Plaintiff found that the interactive elements of the carousel do not receive focus in an order that follows sequences and relationships in the content. While tab controls/pagination buttons should be the first focusable elements, screen reader is moved directly to the content of the carousel and the Plaintiff was not allowed to skip that section of the page again denying him the shopping experience he has a right to.
- The Plaintiff had difficulty identifying the purpose of the links due to poor and non-descriptive labels.
- The Plaintiff found that some links lead to other websites, and do not indicate that they are external. He was as a result disoriented on another website without prior warning due to different page layout and navigation elements.
- The Plaintiff was unable to locate the telephone number on the web page because it is presented in plain text and is inaccessible to the assistive technology, or devices with phone capabilities.
- The Plaintiff struggled with new windows because there is no announcement beforehand and no descriptions to assist customers.
- The Plaintiff had a difficult time when attempting to filter the products by name or price, etc., the web page reloads and keyboard focus moves to the first item on the page without verbal notification. As a result, the Plaintiff got confused by the change of context. For accessibility purposes, when a filter is activated, only the frame containing the filtered products should be updated. If the entire page is reloaded, keyboard focus should be moved to the first element of the filtered content. Otherwise, advanced verbal warning should be provided to the Plaintiff to avoid further confusion.

- The Plaintiff struggles with the labels that do not indicate whether or not form fields are mandatory ("Required"). One of the techniques is missing:
 - a) Text should indicate required field (this technique is preferable);
 - b) Asterisk should indicate required field (Important: the asterisk meaning should be defined at the start of the form).
- The Plaintiff struggled with the errors because the assistive technology couldn't clearly indicate which field had the problem so the Plaintiff may easily navigate to resolve the issue.
- The Plaintiff had difficulty identifying the purpose of the interactive elements due to poor and non-descriptive labels.
- Lastly, the Plaintiff tried to navigate the drop-down menu filter but the site did not announce their state - "collapsed" or "expanded". As a result, the Plaintiff through his assistive technology did not know what part of the Filter menu he was navigating to or if he skipped sub-menu link;

Consequently, blind customers are essentially prevented from purchasing any items on www.100CANDLES.com.

34. Www.100CANDLES.com requires the use of a mouse to complete a transaction. Yet, it is a fundamental tenet of web accessibility that for a web page to be accessible to Plaintiff and blind people, it must be possible for the user to interact with the page using only the keyboard. Indeed, Plaintiff and blind users cannot use a mouse because manipulating the mouse is a visual activity of moving the mouse pointer from one visual spot on the page to another. Thus, www.100CANDLES.com inaccessible design, which requires the use of a mouse to complete a transaction, denies Plaintiff and blind customers the ability to independently navigate and/or make purchases on www.100CANDLES.com.

35. Due to www.100CANDLES.com inaccessibility, Plaintiff and blind customers must in turn spend time, energy, and/or money to make their purchases at traditional brick-and mortar retailers. Some blind customers may require a driver to get to the stores or require assistance in navigating the stores. By contrast, if www.100CANDLES.com was accessible, a blind person could independently investigate products and make purchases via the Internet as sighted individuals can and do. According to WCAG 2.1 Guideline 2.4.1, a mechanism is necessary to bypass blocks of content that are repeated on multiple webpages because requiring users to extensively tab before reaching the main content is an unacceptable barrier to accessing the website. Plaintiff must tab through every navigation bar option and footer on Defendant's website in an attempt to reach the desired service. Thus, www.100CANDLES.com inaccessible design, which requires the use of a mouse to complete a transaction, denies Plaintiff and blind customers the ability to independently make purchases on www.100CANDLES.com.

39. www.100CANDLES.com thus contains access barriers which deny the full and equal access to Plaintiff, who would otherwise use www.100CANDLES.com and who would otherwise be able to fully and equally enjoy the benefits and services of www.100CANDLES.com in New York State and throughout the United States.

40. Plaintiff, KEVIN YAN LUIS, has made numerous attempts to complete a purchase on www.100CANDLES.com, most recently on June 4, 2022, but was unable to do so independently because of the many access barriers on Defendant's website. These access barriers have caused www.100CANDLES.com to be inaccessible to, and not independently usable by, blind and visually-impaired persons. Amongst other access barriers experienced, Plaintiff was unable to make an online purchase of candles and accessories.

41. Moreover, Plaintiff intends on visiting the Website in the future in order to make additional potential purchases as the store offers candles for assorted occasions. Plaintiff enjoys the various selections of wax and led candles and accessories and would like to order BLUE EYE to be shipped directly to his home from Defendant's website.

42. As described above, Plaintiff has actual knowledge of the fact that Defendant's website, www.100CANDLES.com, contains access barriers causing the website to be inaccessible, and not independently usable by, blind and visually-impaired persons.

43. These barriers to access have denied Plaintiff full and equal access to, and enjoyment of, the goods, benefits and services of www.100CANDLES.com.

44. Defendant engaged in acts of intentional discrimination, including but not limited to the following policies or practices:

- (a) constructed and maintained a website that is inaccessible to blind class members with knowledge of the discrimination; and/or
- (b) constructed and maintained a website that is sufficiently intuitive and/or obvious that is inaccessible to blind class members; and/or
- (c) failed to take actions to correct these access barriers in the face of substantial harm and discrimination to blind class members.

45. Defendant utilizes standards, criteria or methods of administration that have the effect of discriminating or perpetuating the discrimination of others.

46. Because of Defendant's denial of full and equal access to, and enjoyment of, the goods, benefits and services of www.100CANDLES.com, Plaintiff and the class have suffered an injury-in-fact which is concrete and particularized and actual and is a direct result of defendant's conduct.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

47. Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated, seeks certification of the following nationwide class pursuant to Rule 23(a) and 23(b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure: "all legally blind individuals in the United States who have attempted to access www.100CANDLES.com and as a result have been denied access to the enjoyment of goods and services offered by www.100CANDLES.com, during the relevant statutory period."

48. Plaintiff seeks certification of the following New York subclass pursuant to Fed.R.Civ.P. 23(a), 23(b)(2), and, alternatively, 23(b)(3): "all legally blind individuals in New York State who have attempted to access www.100CANDLES.com and as a result have been denied access to the enjoyment of goods and services offered by www.100CANDLES.com, during the relevant statutory period."

49. There are hundreds of thousands of visually-impaired persons in New York State. There are approximately 8.1 million people in the United States who are visually-impaired. Id. Thus, the persons in the class are so numerous that joinder of all such persons is impractical and the disposition of their claims in a class action is a benefit to the parties and to the Court.

50. This case arises out of Defendant's policy and practice of maintaining an inaccessible website denying blind persons access to the goods and services of www.100CANDLES.com. Due to Defendant's policy and practice of failing to remove access barriers, blind persons have been and are being denied full and equal access to independently browse, select and shop on www.100CANDLES.com.

51. There are common questions of law and fact common to the class, including without limitation, the following:

- (a) Whether www.100CANDLES.com is a “public accommodation” under the ADA;
- (b) Whether www.100CANDLES.com is a “place or provider of public accommodation” under the laws of New York;
- (c) Whether Defendant, through its website, www.100CANDLES.com, denies the full and equal enjoyment of its goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations to people with visual disabilities in violation of the ADA; and
- (d) Whether Defendant, through its website, www.100CANDLES.com, denies the full and equal enjoyment of its goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations to people with visual disabilities in violation of the law of New York.

52. The claims of the named Plaintiff are typical of those of the class. The class, similar to the Plaintiff, is severely visually-impaired or otherwise blind, and claims BLUE EYE has violated the ADA, and/or the laws of New York by failing to update or remove access barriers on their website, www.100CANDLES.com, so it can be independently accessible to the class of people who are legally blind.

53. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the members of the Class because Plaintiff has retained and is represented by counsel competent and experienced in complex class action litigation, and because Plaintiff has no interests antagonistic to the members of the class. Class certification of the claims is appropriate pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(2) because Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the Class, making appropriate both declaratory and injunctive relief with respect to Plaintiff and the Class as a whole.

54. Alternatively, class certification is appropriate under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3) because questions of law and fact common to Class members clearly predominate over questions affecting only individual class members, and because a class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this litigation.

55. Judicial economy will be served by maintenance of this lawsuit as a class action in that it is likely to avoid the burden that would be otherwise placed upon the judicial system by the filing of numerous similar suits by people with visual disabilities throughout the United States.

56. References to Plaintiff shall be deemed to include the named Plaintiff and each member of the class, unless otherwise indicated.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of 42 U.S.C. §§12181 et seq. – Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act)

57. Plaintiff repeats, realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 56 of this Complaint as though set forth at length herein.

58. Title III of the American with Disabilities Act of 1990, 42 U.S.C. §12182(a) provides that “No individual shall be discriminated against on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations of any place of public accommodation by any person who owns, leases (or leases to), or operates a place of public accommodation.” Title III also prohibits an entity from “[u]tilizing standards or criteria or methods of administration that have the effect of discriminating on the basis of disability.” 42 U.S.C. §12181(b)(2)(D)(I).

59. Wwww.100CANDLES.com is a sales establishment and public accommodation within the definition of 42 U.S.C. §§12181(7).

60. Defendant is subject to Title III of the ADA because it owns and operates www.100CANDLES.com.

61. Under Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. §12182(b)(1)(A)(I), it is unlawful discrimination to deny individuals with disabilities or a class of individuals with disabilities the opportunity to participate in or benefit from the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations of an entity.

62. Under Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. §12182(b)(1)(A)(II), it is unlawful discrimination to deny individuals with disabilities or a class of individuals with disabilities an opportunity to participate in or benefit from the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodation, which is equal to the opportunities afforded to other individuals.

63. Specifically, under Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. §12182(b)(2)(A)(II), unlawful discrimination includes, among other things, “a failure to make reasonable modifications in policies, practices, or procedures, when such modifications are necessary to afford such goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations to individuals with disabilities, unless the entity can demonstrate that making such modifications would fundamentally alter the nature of such goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations.”

64. In addition, under Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. §12182(b)(2)(A)(III), unlawful discrimination also includes, among other things, “a failure to take such steps as may be necessary to ensure that no individual with disability is excluded, denied services, segregated or otherwise treated differently than other individuals because of the absence of auxiliary aids and services, unless the entity can demonstrate that taking such steps would fundamentally alter the nature of the good, service, facility, privilege, advantage, or accommodation being offered or would result in an undue burden.”

65. There are readily available, well-established guidelines on the Internet for making websites accessible to the blind and visually-impaired. These guidelines have been followed by other business entities in making their websites accessible, including but not limited to ensuring adequate prompting and accessible alt-text. Incorporating the basic components to make their website accessible would neither fundamentally alter the nature of Defendant's business nor result in an undue burden to Defendant.

66. The acts alleged herein constitute violations of Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. §12101 et seq., and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Patrons of BLUE EYE who are blind have been denied full and equal access to www.100CANDLES.com, have not been provided services that are provided to other patrons who are not disabled, and/or have been provided services that are inferior to the services provided to non-disabled patrons.

67. Defendant has failed to take any prompt and equitable steps to remedy its discriminatory conduct. These violations are ongoing.

68. As such, Defendant discriminates, and will continue in the future to discriminate against Plaintiff and members of the proposed class and subclass on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, accommodations and/or opportunities of www.100CANDLES.com in violation of Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. §§12181 et seq. and/or its implementing regulations.

69. Unless the Court enjoins Defendant from continuing to engage in these unlawful practices, Plaintiff and members of the proposed class and subclass will continue to suffer irreparable harm.

70. The actions of Defendant were and are in violation of the ADA, and therefore Plaintiff invokes his statutory right to injunctive relief to remedy the discrimination.

71. Plaintiff is also entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

72. Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §12188 and the remedies, procedures, and rights set forth and incorporated therein, Plaintiff prays for judgment as set forth below.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of New York State Human Rights Law, N.Y. Exec. Law Article 15 (Executive Law §292 et seq.))

73. Plaintiff repeats, realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 72 of this Complaint as though set forth at length herein.

74. N.Y. Exec. Law §296(2)(a) provides that it is “an unlawful discriminatory practice for any person, being the owner, lessee, proprietor, manager, superintendent, agent, or employee of any place of public accommodation . . . because of the . . . disability of any person, directly or indirectly, to refuse, withhold from or deny to such person any of the accommodations, advantages, facilities or privileges thereof.”.

75. Wwww.100CANDLES.com is a sales establishment and public accommodation within the definition of N.Y. Exec. Law §292(9).

76. Defendant is subject to the New York Human Rights Law because it owns and operates www.100CANDLES.com. Defendant is a person within the meaning of N.Y. Exec. Law. §292(1).

77. Defendant is violating N.Y. Exec. Law §296(2)(a) in refusing to update or remove access barriers to www.100CANDLES.com, causing www.100CANDLES.com to be completely inaccessible to the blind. 78. Specifically, under N.Y. Exec. Law § unlawful discriminatory practice includes, among other things, “a refusal to make reasonable modifications in policies, practices, or procedures, when such modifications are necessary to afford facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations to individuals with disabilities, unless such person can demonstrate that making such modifications would fundamentally alter the nature of such facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations.”

79. In addition, under N.Y. Exec. Law §296(2)(c)(II), unlawful discriminatory practice also includes, “a refusal to take such steps as may be necessary to ensure that no individual with a disability is excluded or denied services because of the absence of auxiliary aids and services, unless such person can demonstrate that taking such steps would fundamentally alter the nature of the facility, privilege, advantage or accommodation being offered or would result in an undue burden.”

Incorporating the basic components to make their website accessible would neither fundamentally alter the nature of Defendant’s business nor result in an undue burden to Defendant.

81. Defendant’s actions constitute willful intentional discrimination against the class on the basis of a disability in violation of the New York State Human Rights Law, N.Y.

Exec. Law §296(2) in that Defendant has:

- (a) constructed and maintained a website that is inaccessible to blind class members with knowledge of the discrimination; and/or
- (b) constructed and maintained a website that is sufficiently intuitive and/or obvious that is inaccessible to blind class members; and/or
- (c) failed to take actions to correct these access barriers in the face of substantial harm and discrimination to blind class members.

82. Defendant has failed to take any prompt and equitable steps to remedy their discriminatory conduct. These violations are ongoing.

83. As such, Defendant discriminates, and will continue in the future to discriminate against Plaintiff and members of the proposed class and subclass on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, accommodations and/or opportunities of www.100CANDLES.com under N.Y. Exec. Law §296(2) et seq. and/or its implementing regulations. Unless the Court enjoins Defendant from continuing to engage in these unlawful practices, Plaintiff and members of the class will continue to suffer irreparable harm.

84. The actions of Defendant were and are in violation of the New York State Human Rights Law and therefore Plaintiff invokes his right to injunctive relief to remedy the discrimination.

85. Plaintiff is also entitled to compensatory damages, as well as civil penalties and fines pursuant to N.Y. Exec. Law §297(4)(c) et seq. for each and every offense.

86. Plaintiff is also entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.
